

Medal of Honor

March is Medal of Honor Month. March 25th is Medal of Honor Day.

Upon reflection, it occurs to me that, while none of those among us here today are likely to be awarded the Medal of Honor, we can share a little piece of what it stands for. Men and women earn the Medal of Honor for one reason, and one reason only. The adherence to commitment.

Whether it be on the battlefield, on the job, in a marriage, sports, or even in school, the adherence to commitment sets some people apart from others. And so, today we pray that you lead us each to our own commitment, for we are all different and have different parts to play. Give us the strength to meet that commitment without wavering, even in the face of opposition.

In Your name we pray, Amen.
