

Faith

Last night, during my evening prayers, I asked the Lord and Jesus why we don't seem to have miracles like those that had occurred a thousand years ago. No one is appearing to children. Saints don't come and give us guidance.

The answer came to me almost instantaneously.

When the human spirit aligns itself with the Good that is at the heart of all that is holy, the spirits of the Almighty, Jesus, and the spirits of the saints, there is a bonding that gives rise to undeniable and irrevocable Faith.

The answer is that Faith cannot be thrust upon us with miracles. It must arise from within.

Tom Cuba, 2024 0301